T "I initially worked with Ellen on a case in which I was the Guardian ad Litem and Ellen was the mediator. The facts of the case were extremely sensitive and complicated, and I was thrilled to see how diligent and creative Ellen was in crafting a solution that made both parties feel comfortable. Ellen has proven to be E incredibly competent, knowledgeable and helpful as a mediator, and I am particularly impressed with how
S much effort she is willing to expend in order to settle a case. She has the parties' best interest at heart and T will not quit until a resolution is reached, and this is reflected in her success rate." Kelly Schiffer, Levine &

L "Ellen has mediated more than one difficult case for my firm. Custody and divorce battles can be some of S the hardest cases in which to mediate a settlement because there are emotional as well as monetary issues. Ellen seems uniquely capable of separating the two and more importantly getting the parties to separate the two, address them individually and come to a resolution that both parties can be happy with. It is often said that 'after a successful mediation both parties are a little unhappy.' I don't find this to be the case with Ellen's mediations. My experience has been that she delivers on her 'win-win' promise." - Ralph Hiers, Attorney at Law, Farmer, Hiers Bushnell & Drye
